Sept. 12.—Bright and early the Forty-legiment arrived at Fall River this morning. It was 5.30 o'clock, so that the Old Colony made the sail up from New York in eleven hours and a half. The sail through the Sound was enjoyed. The moon was out and the stars were shining, but there was lightning away off to Conterno's Band gave a grand concert in the main saloon and members of the regiment formed in groups and sang or played cards. At 10 clock taps were sounded and about three-fourths of the regiment sought their berths at once, bu the rest remained up for a little fun. The tin-horn blowers and catcaders were around until about 2 A. M., when the boat commenced to pitch and toss, which was more than they could stand, and they

During the night the non-commissioned staff got together quietly and went to one of the stateroom which they had seen Col. Gaylor and Gen. McLeer enter a few minutes before. Assembling round the door the non-come sang two or three songs. When they were through they expected that either Gen. McLeer or Col. Gaylor would put his head out of the door and acknowledge the serenade, but there was no response. Alas! and alas! the serenaders had been singing to an empty room, the General and Colonel having left it just before the non-comre gathered about the door. The noncom. staff has been pretty well chaffed since.

The regiment came on here by a special train from Fall River. It was raining hard when they took the cars and looked as if it was going to be a day of steady rain, but just before the Hub was reached a little bit of blue was seen in the sky, then the sun popped out and there was no more rain. A great load of anxi-ty was lifted. On the cars the boys had a good time. Company D, having the largest number of men on the trip, occupied one entire car. Senator Geiss, of this company, made a burlesque speech on free trade and protection. Then Geiss and Allard engaged in a wrestling match. Gelss gained two throws out of three.

At the depot a committee of officers from the First Massachusetts Regiment met the Forty-seventh and gave them a welcome. The march was then taken up through several of the principal streets to Mechanics' Hall, which is situated in the est part of the city. The streets were in a terrible condition from the heavy rain of the day be-best part of the city. The streets were in a terrible condition from the heavy rain of the day before. There was mind an inch or two deep in places, and good marching under these conditions was impossible.

The boys were somewhat disappointed that one of the Boston regiments did not turn out to escort them. On reaching Mechanics' hial, which is the headquarters of the regiment during its stay here, the companies were dismissed without furiner ceremony. A collation, in which pork and beans figured complicationly, was then vigorously attacked. At about 4.30 F. M. the regiment was reviewed on the Common by Lieut. Gov. John Quincy Adams, Gov. Brackett not being well enough to be present. This was followed by dress parade and an exhibition of the bayonet drill by tweeve men from Company F, under Cant. Denke. The Lieutenant-Governor was accompanied by the Adjutant-General and the rest of the Governor's staff. A great crowd wilnessed the ceremonics. The regiment idd its work handsomely. This evening the officers of the First Regiment gave a reception to Col. Gaylor and his officers, Col. Lamb and the members of the Veteran Association, and the invited guests of the Forty-seventh. The reception took place at the headquarters of the First Regiment.

To-morrow the Forty-seventh will spend most of the day looking arout the city. Besides Gen. McLeer and Capts. Beard and Annan, of the Second Brigade staff, there are here as guests Gen. Wm. H. Brownell, ex-Quartermaster Kelly, W. B. Gaylor, father of the Colonel; Count de Reisthal and others.

WAR ON BARREN ISLAND.

Saloon-Keepers Object to Reer Being Sold Without a Liceuse.

That portion of the United States called Barrel Island, whence sweet odors emanate, the restdents of which are composed chiefly of men employed in the rendering establishments on the sland, has been in a state of turmoil for the past

Richard McAvoy, who is called the king of the little principality, has been creating quite a breeze on account of parties selling liquor without a license, to the detriment of the five saloons which have a monopoly of the business. Those owning Saloons are Richard McAvoy. Mrs. Conway, James Conway, Wm. Spencer and P. McAvoy.

Bome time ago the saloon-keepers decided to raise the price of beer to 8 cents a pint and reduce the quantity. The 500 men employed on the island the quantity. The 500 men employed on the island objected to this and demanded better measure. They have been accustomed to rushing the growier and would not buy their beer any other way. One of their number, by the name of William Laudecker, seeing an opportunity, it is said, of making a little money, took it into his head to secretly get beer on the Island in bottles, by means of the small tug Edith Peck, plying between Canarsie and that blace. The claim is made that he retailed it to the men, thereby injuring the business of the saidon-keepers. They decided to put a stop to it, and secured the services of Counsellor George D. Armstrong, of East New York, who applied to Justice Wilson, of Canarsie, for a warrant of arrest against Laudecker and others for violating the excise laws of the State.

The case was set down for a hearing on Monday next. United States District Attorney Mark D. Wilber will be on hand on Monday to investigate the matter. ested to this and demanded better measure.

Temperance People to Parade.

Brooklyn temperance men are making active preparations for the meeting of the Provincial Council to be held next Sunday in St. Aloysius's Academy, Jersey City. Delegates from Brooklyn and New York will meet at Cortlandt Street Ferry. On the Jersey side a procession will be formed and corps will lead the procession. The meeting will be an important one, as a Reverend Spiritual Director is to be elected. It is expected that the names of several priests who are identified with the cause will be offered in nomination. The Brooklyn men will be modest in this respect, as they desire to give the New Jersey men an opportunity to select the priest. Should, nowever, a Brooklyn priest be nominated the delegates from Brooklyn will support him. The feasacility of adding Father Kelly in his great work will be acted on. Mr. Downes will distribute among the delegates Father Kelly's annual report. Tickets for the drawing for the book presented to Mr. Downes will be ready at next meeting. Several influential isdies in St. Teresa's parish are engaged in effecting a Secred Thirst society. Also Magrati, assisted by a number of young ladies, are interested in the movement. Rev. Fathers Mc-Namee, Gueron and Crimmins are coing all that is possible to aid the movers in the attempt to organize a ladies' society in the parish. Father MacKilane's lecture on Sunday night created a most intense temperance sentiment in the parish. the cause will be offered in nomination. The

THEY ARE NOW AT THE HUB. Some of the Lesses and What Is Covered by Insurance.

All day yesterday the centre of interest in Huntlogion was about the smoking ruins of the Brush Block and adjoining buildings, waich were consumed by fire early Wednesday morning. The real sufferers by the fire waited only a few hours to determine what was to be done, and be fore night the Post-Office, bank and telegraph office were transferred to the brick building across the street, owned by Philip Pearsall, and business was taken up where the night before left it. Tileston, the manager of the telegraph co pany, said they had never broken connection. The office was open and the circuit was complete, Judge Young and Charles R. Street were busy getting to rights in temporary quarters in the same building. Quincy Street, who is in charge of the Post-Office, is deserving of credit for having so promptly arranged a temporary office that not a break occurred in the mail service. The outgoing mail had been made up the night before and was

The Trustees of the Second Presbyterian Church The Trustees of the Second Presbyterian Church have arranged to hold regular services in the hall until the edince destroyed can be refullt. The business men whose places have been destroyed have all secured temporary quarters, excepting Messrs. Brush, who will await the erection of a new outliding. Already this enterprising firm has commenced clearing away the debris preparatory to the erection of a fine business block on the site of the destroyed frame structure.

Joseph Irwin expressed the popular verdict when he said that the block destroyed represented the real unsiness centre and heart of the village, and its destruction has resulted in temporary inconvenience all round. After the smoke has cleared away and the excitement consequent upon the configuration has abated the facts, concerning the fire can the more readily be ascertained. The TALMAGE LAID THE STONE. The Ceremony Attracted a Large Crowd to Fur Rocknway Yesterday.

The announcement that Rev. Dr. De Witt Tal mage would officiate at the laying of the cornerstone of the First Presbyterian Church at Far Rockaway was sufficient, despite the crispness of the air and the strength of the wind, to attract i large crowd to the scene of the services. Manwent down from Brooklyn, and were interested spectators of the solemn ceremonies. A large platform and rows of seats had been built on one side of the site of the new edifice, on Central avenue, facing the white marble corner-stone, in the side of which was chiseled the date, "A. D. 1888." It was the gift of Mr. William Scott, of Lawrence. The exercises were opened shortly after 3 o'clock with prayer by the paster, Rev. Theodore M. Harris. This was followed by the hymn "Christ is Our Corner-Stone" by the volunteer choir, the audience joining in the refrain. Rev. Mr. Cuiler, of Woodhaven, then read the fifty-seventh Psalm and other portions of the Scrip-Mr. M. E. Torrey then read the digest of the history of the church, the unabridged account of which was deposited in the corner-stone. Dr. Carl Schmuck, at the conclusion of this, placed in the coffer, made to fit the hollow in the stone, copies of this year's almanacs, of daily, weekly and religious papers, a statement of the vote of the day before on the incorporation of Far Rockaway, the card of invitation to the ceremonies; and American co'ns of the denominations of one cent to one dollar. The receptacle was then scaled and placed in the depression chiselled out for it. Dr. Talmage then advanced to the front of the

Dr. Taimage then advanced to the front of the platform amid the deepest silence, each one present anxious to catch his every word. He began by apologizing for keeping on his hat because of the coid, but assured his hearers that if they forgave him he would pardon them for following his example.

"This day," he continued, "should be one of joyous congratulation, joined with solemnity, and the result of it will be a great deal more far-reaching than we can at present appreciate. The contents of this corner-stone will be a message from this century to the one that succeeds it, and perhaps to still another—who can tell?"

The speaker then drew a vivid picture of the growth that was sure to follow the years in the natural order of events. He continued:

"It may be that this long island shall be the London of America, and even now there is every prospect of it coming to pass that all arrivais from Europe will land at Fort Pond Bay, and as the cities are protonged courches would become the more necessary."

The speaker congratulated the congragation that the money necessary to build the course had more necessary."

The speaker congratulated the congregation that the money necessary to build the church had been contributed by members of eight different sects, and concluded by noping that the time was not far distant when all could had the day which would see the differences between capital and labor settled, not by dynamite, but by the gospel of Christ.

of Christ.

Dr. Taimadge was throughout happy in anecdots and expression, and held the attention of all till he ended. He then, with his own tands, taid the corner-stone in the name of each member of the Trinity, tapping it three times with the trowel he

eld. Prayer was then delivered by the Rev. Peter D. Oakiey, of Springfeld, one of the oldest Presbyte-rian ministers on Long Island, and the apostolic benealciton was given by Kev. Mr. Dunbar, of the M. E. Church of Lawrence. A vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. Talmings by a show of hands. In the evening an oyster supper was given by the ladies for the benefit of the church, which is to cost so one.

WANTED TO MEET DEMPSEY.

The Young Man Who Signed a " P. M." and Turned Somersaults at Bellevue. Officer Hefferman, of the East Sixty-seventh street station, found a young man acting in a peculiar manner in the street and took him to Fellevue Hospital. The prisoner told the clerk that he was William Strauss, P. M., aged eighteen years, of 141 Hume street, Brooklyn, E. D. His sister, he said, was Kate Strauss, P. M., of Cook street, Brook-

Strauss insisted on the clerk putting the "P. M." after his name and his sister's, but would not tell what it meant. He was very eager to meet "Jack" Dempsey in the prize ring, and the mention of the pugilist's name fairly set him in convulsions. He was poorly dressed, but said he had $100 that he wished to distribute to the poot.

After Strauss had turned several somersaults in the office, Dr. Douglass sent him to the insane pavilion.

Liquor Was His Enemy.

Justice Hendrickson, of Jamaica, yesterday sentenced William Edwardy to the Kings County Pententiary for three months. Edwardy had been engaged in trying to break up a gang of horse thieves located at the place. As part of his plan he was locked up in the jail. While there he became enamored with the daughter of the janitor, Mr. Murphy. Subsequently, while under the influence of liquor, he sought in an unruly manner to enter Mr. Murphy's apartments, and for this was arrested and geniesed.
